

CALL OF HOUSE IN THE SENATE

Five Republicans Join With Democrats To Tie Up Work Of The Upper House On Stephenson Resolution.

FIRST FACTIONAL TROUBLE COMES

Democrats Aided By Five Republicans Start Trouble This Morning--Social Democrats Have Many Bills To Present.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Jan. 20.—Opening guns in a partisan fight in the state legislature came this morning in a call of the house on the question of the Stephenson campaign expenses.
Aided by five La Follette senators, Blaine, Lockney, Marshall, Morris and Owen, the democrats and one social democrat succeeded in taking the first steps in a reconsideration of their resolution to investigate the recent primary election.
Partisan politics entered into the vote of the republican senators and the first steps in a bitter warfare began. As there were thirteen absentees it will be impossible to transact business for two days at least.
The democrats allege the expenditure of a quarter of a million by Senator Stephenson in securing his re-election, and Senator Blaine stated that in his opinion the senate would vote for an investigation.
The absentees are scattered all over the state. Senator Hurlburt is at Superior, and Hurlburt at Ashland, and others are at their homes two out of the state.
To specify charges against the Stephenson campaign managers is the work which the democratic leaders are now bending their energies and it is said they will have the charges ready this afternoon for presentation.
In the assembly this morning Grant U. Fisher of Janesville was given an additional committee appointment, being placed upon the new capitol building committee.
The social democrats handed in a bunch of bills this morning for consideration of the assembly. Among them were one which call for the pay of all laborers in cash, and to give financial aid to poor people in Illinois.
To prohibit the use of private detectives in strikes; for one day rest in seven for all laborers; eight hour day work on all public work; for more stringent child labor laws.
To establish a state printing plant, this to be adopted by the senate as a constitutional amendment; old newspaper; popular election of all federal judges rather than by appointment.

AUGUSTA TO GIVE A BANQUET FOR TAFT

City Where President-Elect Will Make Winter Home Tenders Reception In His Honor.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Augusta, Ga., Jan. 20.—Augusta is proud of the distinction conferred upon her by Mr. Taft in selecting this city as his winter residence, and to show her appreciation of the honor a magnificent banquet is to be given at the Hotel Richmond in honor of the President-elect. The affair has been arranged by the Augusta Chamber of Commerce and from all indications it will rival in brilliancy the similar function recently given in honor of Mr. Taft in Atlanta.
An imposing array of distinguished guests will be present. Among those invited to attend are the governors of Georgia and South Carolina, together with the senators, representatives and other public men of those two states. Special cars have been engaged to convey the guests to and from the hotel. The management of the hotel has made elaborate arrangements for the banquet. The decorations of the large dining hall will be principally in American colors and clocks will occupy prominent places in the decorative scheme. The banquet will be preceded by an open air address by Mr. Taft.

VICEROY'S DAUGHTER MARRIED IN INDIA

Lady Violet Elliott Wedded Today to Lord Fitzmaurice in Calcutta.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Jan. 20.—A cable dispatch from Calcutta tells of the wedding there today of Lady Violet, daughter of Lord Minto, the Viceroy of India, and Lord Charles Fitzmaurice, son of Lord Lansdowne. It is an interesting coincidence that the fathers of both the bride and bridegroom have filled the high positions of Governor-General of Canada and Viceroy of India. Besides being the daughter of one viceroy, the bride is the niece of another, Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, being her mother's brother.
Only last spring the bride's sister, Lady Ruby Elliott, married Viscount Eglinton, the eldest son of the Earl of Cromartie, who directed affairs in Egypt for many years. As a further testimony of the Imperial family rendered by members of these families, it may be mentioned that just one hundred years ago the Right Hon. Hugh Elliott, brother of the first Earl of Minto, was governor of the Madras Presidency.
The wedding at Calcutta today was attended by many members of both families, some of whom journeyed halfway around the world in order to be present. Lady Lansdowne, mother of the bridegroom, was among those who went from England. Her trip afforded the first instance in history that the wife of an Indian viceroy returned to the former scenes of her labors after bidding them an official farewell on the steps of Princess's Gate.

Scott, charged by the St. Paul railway with stealing coal from their yards, was brought before the municipal court this morning and on his plea of guilty, was fined $5 and costs. Scott is about the fourteenth arrested in the past two weeks on this charge. The place where the coal was stolen is known as the Coal switch where all loads consigned to the Fairbanks-Morse company are switched to their plant. A detective was out here last year and working together with Police Scheibel a number of men were warned against the practice. It was started again this year and several cars of coal that have been sent to the plant. There are a number of warrants out and it is said that several more arrests will be made.

TWENTY KILLED BY POWDER EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO TODAY

Temporary Crib-Out in the Lake Scene of Awful Disaster This Morning.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, Jan. 20.—Twenty men out of seventy employed on a crib a mile and a half from shore in Lake Michigan are unaccounted for and are believed to have been killed or drowned when a powder magazine exploded at the crib today. Forty-five men were rescued by the tug Morford, which was stationed near the crib, nineteen of whom it landed at an adjacent crib. The remainder were brought to the city to be placed in hospitals suffering from burns and lacerations. The crib is a temporary structure erected in the construction of a new tunnel into the lake for the purpose of adding to Chicago's water supply and was used as headquarters for supplies and living quarters for the men. The wood on material used in the crib made it an easy prey to fire. At 3:30 p. m. a telephone message stated that twenty bodies had been recovered and that a number of others could be seen scattered among the wreckage.

PARLIAMENT OF DOMINION MEETS

ELEVENTH SESSION STARTED IN OTTAWA, TODAY.

HUTCHINSON, KAS., SCENE

Of Meeting of Kansas Retail Merchants' Association—Celebration at Indiana University.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—The first session of the Eleventh Parliament of Canada was opened today with the annual ceremonial. A brilliant military escort accompanied Lord Gray from Ottawa (that is, the parliament buildings, and "Thomas" of "Nepom" Fort) to the parliament buildings. The Governor-General entered the Senate chamber. In the red chamber the attendance was unusually large when Lord Gray delivered the speech from the throne.
The election of a speaker and the other formalities attending the organization for the session will take place tomorrow. Charles Macell, who for four years has been speaker, seems assured of reelection.
Present indications point to a comparatively short session of parliament. The Government's legislative program is far-reaching and is not a heavy one. The principal measures to come up include the new insurance act, Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's bill to prevent the corrupt payment of secret commissions either in private or governmental business, a bill to establish a separate portfolio for labor, a bill to extend the boundaries of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, measures for the relief of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, and a bill to amend the present rules of parliamentary procedure with a view to expediting the transaction of public business and preventing waste of time in useless debate.
The estimates for the year will be put down as much as possible, commensurate with the actual needs of the public service and every effort will be made to meet the temporary falling off in public revenue by a corresponding reduction in expenditures.

EDUCATION FOR GROWING YOUTHS*BEST METHODS OF TRAINING
HIM FOR HIS LIFE'S WORK*MANY PHASES DISCUSSEDBy Speakers at the Social Union at Their Meeting Last Evening.Topic at Next Meeting: "The Public Library."
Leader: Wilson Lane.

Over a hundred strong, the Social

Union gathered at the Y. M. C.

A. Auditorium last evening for its monthly supper and for another of its excellent programs of social temperament talks.

The evening was under the leadership of Allen B. Wain. The topic of the speakers was "The Education for the Twentieth Century Boy" and this topic they dealt with each

according to the phase that appealed to him most as a minister of the social union, a superintendent of schools,

a commercial teacher, or a collegian, as the case happened to be.

In this contemplating the matter

from every angle of vision, a mass of expert testimony, as it were, was presented to the hearers such as could scarcely have been expected to transpire within the compass of a single evening.

First upon the program was the Rev. John Reynolds, whose outliving was handled from the viewpoint of the clergyman.

"What with parish calls, visitations upon the sick, ministrations to the sick, and ministrations in general,"

he said, "there is surely cause for being not apart to be known as clergyman. There is a place for this profession in the economy of life and any boy wishing to educate himself to enter it should not in any case be deterred from doing so by the earnings of those who would dissuade him and who designate the ministry as a body of huffing shepherds.

"These disuaders are generally

men who have, in youth, been warned and have repudiated the faith. They are spiritual degenerates and are not to be considered as disuaders. There will come under consideration, however,

the influence of the type of the type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the

type of the type of the type of the expert. It is much harder to do business with only a limited education.

This is not so noticeable in the early stages of a career, but when one has to take responsibilities, pass final judgments, make decisions, and head of a business, as many boys

head forward to being, then is the time that one appreciates the advantage of an education. Many a man who has had a good education in school

has gotten a better knowledge of certain subjects, for then he would have been saved many worries and been able to do business with more facility.

"My advice to any boy contemplan-

ing a commercial life is: get a high school education by all means, and take a business course, which is sufficient as far as school education goes.

A great many get the idea that a college education especially qualifies them for commercial life. These men expect them to go out and take the world and show it how to do things.

This is a mistake. Some graduates of college have acted as night clerks in hotels at $3 per week. They need a commercial education. Practical experience is also important.

"Many boys start out without knowing what they are fitted for. It is not always easy to tell. Most of us have a liking for a certain line of work, while others can not determine

at once just what they do like best.

The latter was the state of mind in which I found myself.

"My father was in the dry-goods

business, and I was around the store

more or less during my younger days.

When about fourteen years of age I spent most of two summer vacations

in the store at $2 per week, my father paying for my board, room and washing.

"After two years in high school I entered the store, but it took me

some time to decide to stay in the dry-goods business. I found a rough road in the beginning, and it was a distinct satisfaction to get rid of the burden of uncertainty, to feel that I knew many things that had come only after years of patience and many discouragements. However, such discouragements and enforced patience

make a man strong, and ready to tackle greater things.

"As a man grows older, he can shift

the career of his business onto youngsters and become interested in literature, art, etc., and then his education helps him mightily. We can all call to mind, no doubt, businessmen who have in their declining years

been cited as authorities on subjects

foreign to commercial life, have become senators, congressmen, diplomats. As a parting shot, I would say to the boys: do not be discouraged

if you are obliged to begin life with a limited education, for pluck, determination, and a well-defined purpose are sure to win, although, on the other hand, if you are merely and financially able to take a higher education, do so. It is for me all want to hear in mind that a commercial success is not the highest aim in life."

Following Mr. Postwick's address, an intermission intervened, and the Mendelssohn club, under the direction of Prof. J. S. Taylor, rendered several numbers. D. D. Andrews was the next speaker, and he presented the matter from the viewpoint of a superintendent of schools.

"This is the instruction to be given in matters pertaining to the sexual relations. These matters should be explained to them rather than that they should learn them from vile sources.

"The best education must not make a muddled out of a boy. He must have a good physical foundation. Besides this, he must read, and obtain elevated ideals from his reading. Then he must be capable in the writing of correspondence for his firm, penning them in readable characters and using good language.

"All this comes under the head of a commercial education. More thoughtful attention must be given to our rural schools. The present ones are too small, and it is well that many are to be consolidated. This will lead to the introduction of a wider range of studies, and there will be more training for the individual.

"Emerging from the complex life about us, the boy will have these to choose from in addition to the existing vocations, and he must qualify for them by possessing something more than book learning. He must be symmetrical. The best education will not neglect the moral phase. It will also build him up physically. He should then become strong, pure, helpful, noble man—in short, a real man."

Next on the program was the address of Dr. Nuzum, whose profession is that of medicine. His words were:

"It appeals to me as very important that a young man should study

his own body of mind and determine what line of work is most attractive to him. As he must have an incentive to some line of work, it is better that it be of his own choice. It will then be a pleasure to him and not slavery. He should choose his calling early and then read, think, observe and work along his chosen line.

"All lines of business are good if only properly conducted and there is sufficient room for all of them. It believes the young man to make the most of the abilities that the Almighty

has given him and to improve every opportunity, for only then can he reach the desired goal, and there is no

success without a fall, and no dangerous business without a fall, and no danger-

ous business without a fall, and no danger-

ous business without a fall, and no danger-

ous business without a fall, and no danger-

ous business without a fall, and no danger-

ous business without a fall, and no danger-

"DRY" BILL VETOED

Tennessee Law Denounced
by Gov. Patterson.

MANY REASONS FOR ACTION

Legislature May Sustain the Executive,
a Change of Four Votes Being Necessary—Probable Effects of the State-Wide Measure.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—The state-wide prohibition bill which was passed by both houses last week has been vetoed by Gov. Patterson, his message being filed with the clerk of the senate late yesterday afternoon.

The governor's action followed adjournment of the senate, after it had passed on third reading the bill prohibiting the manufacture in Tennessee of intoxicating liquors. Consequently the veto was read to the senate this morning. It must be sustained or the bill passed over the executive's protest. On original passage the vote was 20 to 13. Opponents of the bill claim they can count on a change of three senators to their side, and that the fourth member, on whose vote the fate of the measure depends, is wavering. Should there be a change of four votes, the veto would be sustained, 17 to 10.

Would Ruin Vast Properties.
The bill is made effective July 1, 1909. That prohibiting the manufacture of liquors was amended so as to become effective January 1, 1910. With the two laws on the statute books, property worth many millions would be made practically worthless; vast revenues to the state and to certain counties and cities would be cut off, and anti-prohibitionists claim that taxes would necessarily become burdensome. Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga are the only cities that would be affected by the bill prohibiting the sale of liquor, as local option laws are already in effect practically throughout the state.

Grounds for the Veto.
In his veto message, Gov. Patterson charges that such legislation is against the Democratic platform and the doctrine of self-government; that it sets aside the recorded will of the people; that experience has taught that no arbitrary prohibition law was ever obeyed, and its enactment brings no settlement of the question; that it destroys property, reduces state revenues, increases taxation; takes money from the people to send it elsewhere; foments discord; impairs the dignity of the commonwealth; fosters hypocrisy and invites evasion and deceit in the people.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN TOLEDO.

Several Large Buildings Destroyed—
Theater Panic Narrowly Averted.

Toledo, O., Jan. 20.—Toledo was visited by the most serious fire in many years last night. Flames starting in the basement of the Brown, Eager & Hull Book Company store at 10 o'clock entirely gutted the large four-story building occupied by that firm and 45 minutes later communicated to the building on the corner of Adams and Summit streets, occupied by the Hudson Dry Goods Company, which was also destroyed.

The audience in the Arcade theater immediately in the rear of the burning blocks, was hastily dismissed and a panic was narrowly avoided.

Fleischmann's cafe was destroyed. The roofs of the Empire and the Arcade theaters caught fire but the flames were extinguished without doing much damage. At 1:15 this morning the flames were under control. The loss is about $250,000.

MILL WORKERS IN DANGER.

Several Hundred Operatives Barely Escape Death in Fire.

North Chelmsford, Mass., Jan. 20.—Several hundred operatives escaped from a fire which destroyed the Brookside Worsted mills and the wool scouring shed of George C. Moore last night, causing a loss of $500,000.

The fire was first noticed in a two-story section of the Brookside mills, which faced Princeton street. The operatives had not finished their work for the day and when dense volumes of smoke from the burning wool stored in the other departments of the employees hastily abandoned their work and fled to the street. The fire was caused, it is thought, by spontaneous combustion in the wool.

Carmack-Cooper Case Called.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—The case of Col. Duncan B. Cooper, Robin Cooper and former Sheriff John D. Sharp, under indictment on a charge of killing ex-Senator E. W. Carmack, was called before Judge W. M. Hart, holding court in the new criminal court building, at 9 o'clock this morning.

Nebraska Bank Is Robbed.

Harvard, Neb., Jan. 20.—Hobbers dynamited the safe of the Farmers' State bank of Harvard and escaped with $2,000. Although the wall of the building was blown out and the vault almost destroyed, no one seems to have heard the explosion.

Prison for Registration Fraud.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20.—Andrew White pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of fraudulent registration and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He was the thirteenth voter to be convicted of fraud in the last registration.

WHAT RUSSIA OWES THE JEWS.

Almost every day the cables tell of some new atrocity in the Jewish provinces of Russia.

It would seem that Russia does not want the world to forget the slaughter houses of Kishinev and the massacres of Kishinev, at which the world revolted.

Ignorance, race hatred and religious prejudices are responsible for the age long cruelties inflicted upon the Hebrew race in Russia.

"Scratch a Russian and find a Tartar" seems a true saying. The scratched Russians, transformed into Tartars, are still going back 2,000 years to punish the Jews for the crucifixion of Christ.

No man of letters has deeper voiced the challenge of civilization to Russia because of its persecution of the Jew than Joaquin Miller, "the poet of the Sierras."

Recently I ran across his poem entitled "Russia." These are really great lines and worthy of preservation:

Who tamed your lawless Tartar blood?
What David bearded in his den
The Russian bear in ages when
You strode your black, unbridled stud,
A skin clad savage of your steppe?

Why, who now wells out to you—
The Jew, the Jew, the homeless Jew!

Who girl the towns of your young prime
And bound your fierce, divided force?
Why, who but Moses shaped your course?

Unlaid, down the grooves of thine?
Your mighty millions all today
The hated homeless Jew obey.

Who taught all poetry to you?
The Jew, the Jew, the hated Jew.

Who taught you tender Bible tales
Of honey lands, of milk and wine,
Of happy, peaceful Palestine?

Of Jordan's holy harvest vale?
Who gave the patient Christ? I say,
Who gave your Christian creed? Yes,
The Jew.

Who gave your very God to you?
Your Jew, your Jew, your hated Jew.

And this reprint from an American poet is fit companion piece for the passionate plea of Kishinev:

Hath not a Jew eyes? Hath not a Jew hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions, fed with the same food, hurt by the same weapons, subject to the same diseases, warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer, as the Christian is?

The blood of the slaughtered Jew cries aloud from Russian ground.

MONUMENT TO POE IS UNVEILED IN NEW YORK

Boston and Other Cities Observe the Centenary of the American Poet's Birth.

New York, Jan. 20.—Three notable celebrations in honor of the centenary of the birth of Edgar Allan Poe were held in New York yesterday. A monument of Poe was dedicated in Poe park, Fordham, not far from the little cottage in the Bronx where occurred the pathetic death of the poet's child-wife, Virginia. The program consisted of the reading by Wilton Lackaye of a poem by John Henry Bower, entitled "Poe's Cottage at Fordham," and the presentation of the bust of Poe to the city by Arthur A. Bloughton, chairman of the Poe Memorial committee. After the unveiling Poe's cottage was opened to visitors.

Boston, Jan. 20.—While all the country and Europe yesterday paid homage to the memory of the American author and genius, Edgar Allan Poe, on the occasion of the centenary of his birth, the event was especially observed in Boston, where he is supposed to have been born.

The exercises in this city were held under the auspices of the International Poe association. At the Authors' club in the afternoon many well-known Bostonians celebrated the event. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe presided and among those who spoke were Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Judge Robert Grant, Miss Perry and Rev. Samuel M. Crothers.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 20.—The birthday anniversary of Robert E. Lee was observed yesterday by the confederate societies. All schools and banks were closed. The United Daughters of the Confederacy, with Raphael Semmes Camp and Jones M. Withers Camp of Veterans, held appropriate exercises.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 20.—Appropriate exercises in commemoration of the birthday anniversary of Robert E. Lee were held at Atlanta and throughout Georgia yesterday. The occasion was observed in the public schools by an early adjournment of the day's session, preceded by songs and recitations extolling the deeds of the confederate chieftain. Under the auspices of the United Confederate Veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy exercises were held in the hall of the house of representatives, at which Judge Beverly D. Evans of the state supreme court was the principal speaker.

Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 20.—The Edgar Allan Poe centenary celebration reached its climax last night, when able addresses were delivered by Prof. Barrett Wendell of Harvard and "The Nationalism of Poe," and by Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith of the University of North Carolina on "Poe's Influence on Southern Literature."

Especially pleasing to the southern audience was the former's statement that "the work of Poe is among the still few claims which America can as yet urge unchallenged in proof that our country has enriched the literature of the world."

Boston, Mass.—The so-called "Emanuel movement" has gained the most remarkably foothold on the people of America in the two years of its life of any of the propagandas of a similar character ever known. The Emanuel movement originated with the Rev. Dr. Elwood Worcester, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church of this city. In spite of the severe attacks of the physicians on the one hand and the clergy on the other this "new thought," which endeavors to combine religion and medical practice, is steadily gaining ground. Officers have been established in New York city for the treatment of nervous disorders.

Dr. Samuel M'Comb as counsel is heart and soul back of the movement and has been very influential in assisting in the work.

The Emanuel movement had its beginning in the fall of 1905, when Dr. Worcester felt that the time had come when the church should enter more deeply into the lives of the people. He saw the need of the great faith which cures the believer who kisses the stone toe of the saint, but he saw also the need of the best reason that science could give for such a cure.

The fundamental beliefs of the Emanuel movement are that the mind, when inspired by suggestion, can cure many diseases of the moral nature, and aid in the alleviation of pain, but, unlike Christian Science, the belief does not assert that organic ailments should be treated by the influence of the mind, but on the contrary that they should be left to medicine, surgery, hygiene, isolation and skilled nursing. There is no conflict with the surgeon or with the professor of medicine.

Archbishop O'Connell, who may become Cardinal this Spring.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.—Catholic leaders believe that when Archbishop O'Connell returns from Rome this summer he will become Boston's first cardinal. The archbishop will leave for Japan early in January, and goes to the court of the mikado on a diplomatic mission. The task assigned to Archbishop O'Connell is the reestablishment in Japan of Catholic schools, colleges and universities, with protection for Catholic missionaries working in the empire. He is not expected to return to Boston before June.

A papal consistory will be held in May, when it is regarded as certain that at least one cardinal's red hat will be bestowed in the United States, and it is generally believed among local Catholics that this is coming to Boston.

Born in Massachusetts and receiving his early education in Boston, Archbishop O'Connell is thoroughly imbued with every instinct and attribute of the patriotic American. His later training in Europe gave to his mind an international broadening and culture, to which his quick intellect actively responded. Thus equipped, he developed early in his career those qualities of statesmanship and diplomacy which have since marked him as one of the most progressive Catholic ecclesiastics of the day. Sprung from the democracy, he knows the needs, the hopes, the just claims of the great masses of his people, and so he is able to keep in close touch with their every movement, and where he feels it necessary and wise, to take his place as director and leader.

"The Pain Cut Out"

Do my painless methods actually remove the pain in Dental Work?
I can only say that my patients used to often yell so that you could hear them a block when I extracted a tooth.
Now there is only a casual gasp or an exclamation, and that I attribute largely to the element of fear which fills one when they undertake a trip to the Dentist.
I have hundreds of patients who get out of my chair and thank me, saying in substance, that "They are highly pleased at being saved from the pain they usually endured."
Reason says to everybody, "Avoid Pain."
I can help you in this matter.

HIGH SCHOOL HEARD OF GREAT POET'S LIFE

Commemorative Exercises Were Held in Honor of Centennial of Edgar Allan Poe.

Exercises in commemoration of the centennial of Edgar Allan Poe, the greatest poet and story-teller our own soil has produced, took the form at the High School this morning of an address by Prof. H. C. Inell and readings from the poet's lyrical outpourings. With a drollery born of commemoration, Principal Inell did not dwell at any great length upon the stark loneliness of Poe's days on earth. Rather he impressed upon his hearers the fact that the man was a gentle, though high-spirited being, who, though manifested through human clay for a period of forty years, was never the less a creature purely unplaced.
Poe, said the professor in substance, should have dwelt instead upon some sphere where his transcendent genius revealed such as he himself sketched from his imagination in that masterpiece short-story, "The Domain of Arnheim." But even in the then pseudo-cultured city of Baltimore, where the man well-nigh had cause for becoming a cynic, still, like Akela, his "harshness" would not melody run.
Poe's alleged diabolism is an impression of long-standing that was swayed by his posthumous biographers. Rufus Griswold, who was in Poe when Dr. Chas. W. Allen of London wrote and what India was to the Saviour of Mankind, believed to be a friend, he proved a serpent in disguise. With the exception of enthusiasm with companions during student life and later attempts to drown the sorrow of his child-wife's death, the alleged demon was on other being misplaced upon this earth. Making the best of it, Poe spent his meagre stipend, not in wanton dissipation, but in medicine and vices for his dying child-wife, the child Lenore of his lyrics.

1ST WARD FIRE DID CONSIDERABLE HARM

Household Goods Damaged to Extent of Over Hundred Dollars in Mysterious Fire.
Last evening, about half-past seven, a passerby noticed fire in the second story of the home of Charles Camit and called his attention to it. Investigation showed that a smoldering fire was burning in one of the upper rooms and had been burning for some time as the rooms upstairs were all filled with smoke. The fire, about an hour's work with the fire department, was finally extinguished.
The confusion had started in some household goods which were stored in the house by Mrs. Eliza Aldridge, who owns the property. Mrs. Aldridge had been in the room yesterday and there had then been no sign of fire nor is the cause of it known. When discovered it had evidently been smoldering for some time. A crackling noise had been heard earlier in the evening, but it had been attributed to falling leaves.
The damage will amount to about $25 by fire and $100 by smoke.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

No Bathing. With a loud report, the hot-water boiler at the Y. M. C. A. burst last evening, and for a few hours there was no bathing. No injuries were incurred by any of the young men who were standing near the place when the steam escaped.

Program of Dances. With a regular session and a social last evening at their hall in the Hayes block, the Ancient Order of Hibernians passed the evening very pleasantly. Refreshments were served in the course of the dancing program.
No Merry-Go-Round. Last evening two callow youths were caught in flagrant delicto by Junior Phillips of the postoffice while engaged in using the turnstile doors as a sort of carousel. They were brought before Marshal Appleby and rebuked.

THE MAN OF MYSTERY WHO IS SEEKING TO FIND OUT HIS OWN IDENTITY.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Stranger than fiction is the story of Alexander Koscho, which was laid before Attorney John Mason Duffy in the City building yesterday. It deals with a man without an identity, without a known relative and without a name, for Alexander Koscho is only an assumed name, although it is the best he could do.

Koscho's story told to the attorney is indeed strange. The tracing of the meager threads of his life may lead to the solution of a London murder and a kidnapping of international prominence. The story runs as follows:

Koscho is about 27 years old and the first he can remember was when a lad of about 6 or 7 he was taken from a large, quiet home in the country, where there were servants and people who gave him much attention. His abductor was a long bearded and walked him through a rough, desolate way until the poor child was so tired the man picked him up and carried him. The boy fell asleep and when he awoke he was in a woman's lap in a carriage. He remembers little of the ensuing events except that they lived for some time in a richly furnished apartment in the city of London. The woman was very kind to him, but the

WM. ZERBEL GAVE A PARTY TO FRIENDS

Event Was in Honor of His Twenty-first Birthday—Guests Gave Him a Chair.

Last evening at the home of William Zerbel on Hickory street a most merry time was enjoyed, the occasion being his twenty-first birthday. About thirty of his friends were present. The rooms were tastefully decorated with ferns and cut flowers, and were the site of a program of vocal and instrumental music after which an elaborate supper was served and toasts in Mr. Zerbel's honor were offered. During the banquet, Jones' orchestra rendered several selections and Mr. Jones gave a vocal solo. Following the supper games were played, the prizes being awarded to Charles Mills, Elmer Richter and Will Gosselin. Miss Alma Weber presented the hostess with a most beautiful present, a Morris chair, in behalf of the guests.

Officers to take charge of the association's interests were then elected, viz.: President, William McVear; Vice-Pres., H. W. Peabody; Secy., O. S. Morse; Treas., George L. Hatch.

Windfall in Bible.
While reading a Bible which he had bought in a second-hand shop, a Herno Hill (London) gardener named Wallace, recently thrown out of work, came upon two £5 (£25) notes and the following inscription: "I gathered this money with very great difficulty, but, having no relative who is in absolute need, I make thee, who soever shall read this Bible, to be my heir."

Sorry for the Lightkeeper.
While the dear old country gentleman and his wife were walking on the beach one evening they suddenly noticed the revolving light of a lighthouse. The old lady gazed at it with open eyes for some minutes, then she turned to her husband with a puzzled look. "Well," she exclaimed, "if the man in that ship hasn't lit that light this 40 times, and it has gone out every time!"
